KEYNOTE SPEAKER

ACQUANETTA WARREN

MAYOR OF FONTANA

Acquanetta Warren was elected as the City of Fontana's first female and African American Mayor in December 2010 and re-elected in 2018. Since taking office, Mayor Warren has and continues to be a strong advocate for economic development, jobs, affordable housing, public safety, a healthier community, and fiscal integrity. Under the Mayor's stewardship, the City of Fontana was named by RentCafe the fourth Most Prosperous City in the U.S. (with a population over 100,000), as well as the Most Prosperous City in California. This acknowledgment followed the 2017 Fiscal Times' rating of Fontana as one of the financially strongest cities in the nation. From the day the Mayor was inaugurated, she has emphasized that Fontana is "Open for Business" and works directly with the Fontana Chamber of Commerce to support the needs of the business community.

This effort was rewarded in 2017 with the city being ranked fourth in California in the five-year annual growth of retail sales. During Mayor Warren's time on the City Council, there has been significant economic growth and infrastructure improvements including four reconstructed freeway interchanges resulting in reduced traffic congestion, safer streets, and ease of facilitating the movement of goods through San Bernardino County's "Inland Empire." In order to continue this economic growth, Mayor Warren began the "Mayor's Manufacturing Council," which saw more than 500 women attend the first annual Inland Empire Women in Manufacturing event. Realizing that a strong economy requires a healthy community, Ms. Warren founded the award-winning program, Healthy Fontana.

TRAILBLAZER AWARD

AFARAH BOARD, Ph.D.

Youth Essential Skills
YES

Dr. Afarah Board retired from Southern California Edison in 2015, and since then has leaned into education, holding adjunct professor and dean of academic positions and receiving her Ph.D. in leadership studies.

The most gratifying initiative related to education was the formation of a nonprofit, Youth Essential Skills or YES. She saw a need. She was concerned with the high rate of youth reaching adulthood without the proper life skills to compete with their peers and to be successful overall. She went into action, and YES was created.

YES' mission is simply to give those without the resources the same chance as their peers. The organization teaches youth, ages 8-22, the essential life and social skills through workshops, mentoring, networking, training, and provide college scholarships that increase opportunities for their success. Since its inception, and under Dr. Board's leadership, YES has proved successful by providing workshops to hundreds of youths annually with proven results; and awarding thousands of dollars of scholarships to deserving high school seniors.

In addition to YES, Dr. Board launched a business consultant firm, Across the Board Group. In this effort, she leverages her knowledge and experience in operational development, leading large organizations, managing multi-million-dollar capital and operational budgets, enterprise-wide software development, and successfully implementing projects with budgets over $50m. She is currently a faculty member of the Time for Change's Black and Brown Opportunities for Profit Center where she facilitates workshops for the women entrepreneurs.

Some in the community may be familiar with Afarah from SCE as the founder of their Black History Month celebration held in Irwindale. That celebration has been going strong for twenty-five years and continues to be the largest and most successful of any large private corporation. Since its inception, it has not only been integrated into the company as its own initiative but has expanded to include other cultural events.

Dr. Board is active at the church where she and her family worship, Ecclesia Christian Fellowship. In addition to many areas of service, she is co-founder of the Pathway to Leadership, a leadership program that is helping the church continue its long-standing vision and belief of developing leaders within the church, who place God first in their lives and who have the desire to build the Kingdom of God.

She earned her Ph.D. in leadership studies from California Baptist University, her MBA and Bachelor of Arts degrees from the University of Redlands and has completed management training at Harvard and Pepperdine universities. She has been married to her husband, Cleophus, Sr., for over thirty-six years, and has a blended family of five adult children and several grandchildren.

Looking ahead, Talia is excited about continuing her work in both community service and forensics. In the future she hopes to inspire local youth to pursue their passions, whether in service, science, or both, while emphasizing the importance of giving back to their communities.

LEADERSHIP AWARD

SINDY ZUNIGA

Workforce Development Director
Fontana
Chamber of Commerce

“I love to learn and I love to help others.” Through these passions, Cindy has found mentors who taught her about sales, marketing, and networking. Those skills have led her to some amazing experiences, but what has made her truly happy, is the ability to use them in the world of Workforce Development.

A native of California, she moved to San Bernardino when she was four years old. “I grew up experiencing the socioeconomic issues that many in our region are still facing today, so I’ve known for a long time that I wanted to help.” After graduating high school in 2012, Cindy immediately joined community organizations that were fighting to make a difference in San Bernardino. Leading many of her own community projects like park clean ups, collecting/distributing donations to those in need, and supporting small businesses through meet-ups, she realized, it was no longer JUST about San Bernardino. It was about becoming involved with other cities and lending a helping hand when we were needed.

Grateful for the opportunity to be a resource for local Job Seekers, Cindy maintains that it has been the greatest privilege in her life to help people work on their resumes, introduce them to resources, conduct mock interviews, and support organizations like Pathway From Boys To Men, Inc. and expresses her thanks to everyone who supports this work and grants us the ability to continue serving our community.

Working on that path with the Fontana Chamber of Commerce supports her philosophy that, “working together, we can help people get the tools they need to reach new heights and break down the barriers that stand between them and their dreams”.
